

Synergetic Future Visions

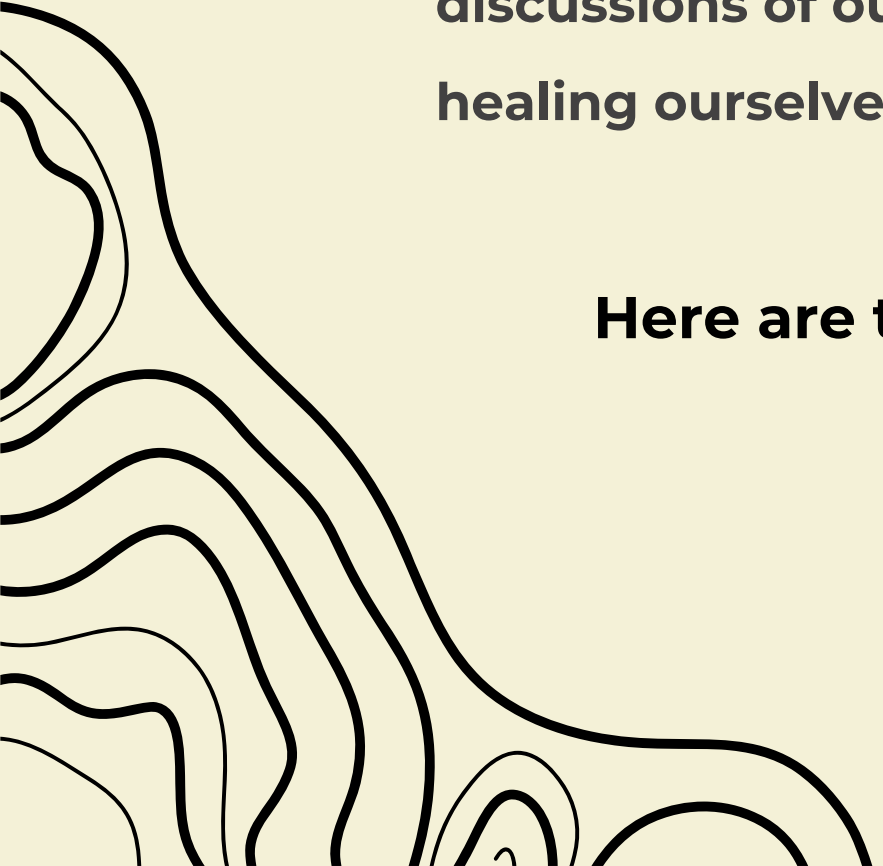

Support Independent Publishing

Synergetic Press is an independent publisher that advances transformative ideas and tools to inspire personal and social change, deepen our connection to all beings, and support a reciprocal relationship with our planet.

We recognize that systems of oppression have long perpetuated social and environmental inequity and aim to create fertile ground for some of the most important and time-sensitive discussions of our age: climate action, promoting equity, liberating our consciousness, and healing ourselves and the land.

Here are the titles we plan to publish and are in development through 2024.

Fall 2023

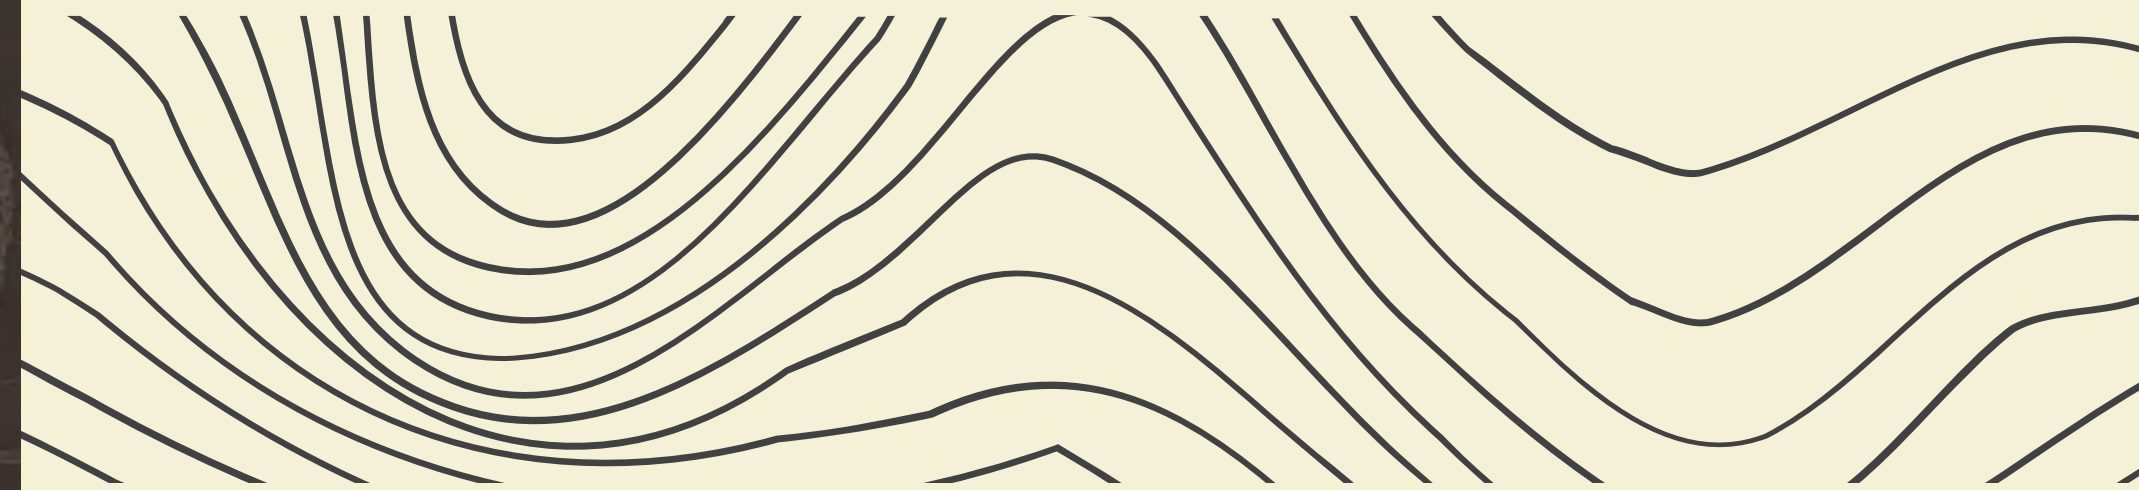

THE REGENERATIVE LANDSCAPER

DESIGN AND BUILD LANDSCAPES THAT REPAIR THE ENVIRONMENT

ERIK OHLSEN

FOREWORD BY PENNY LIVINGSTON

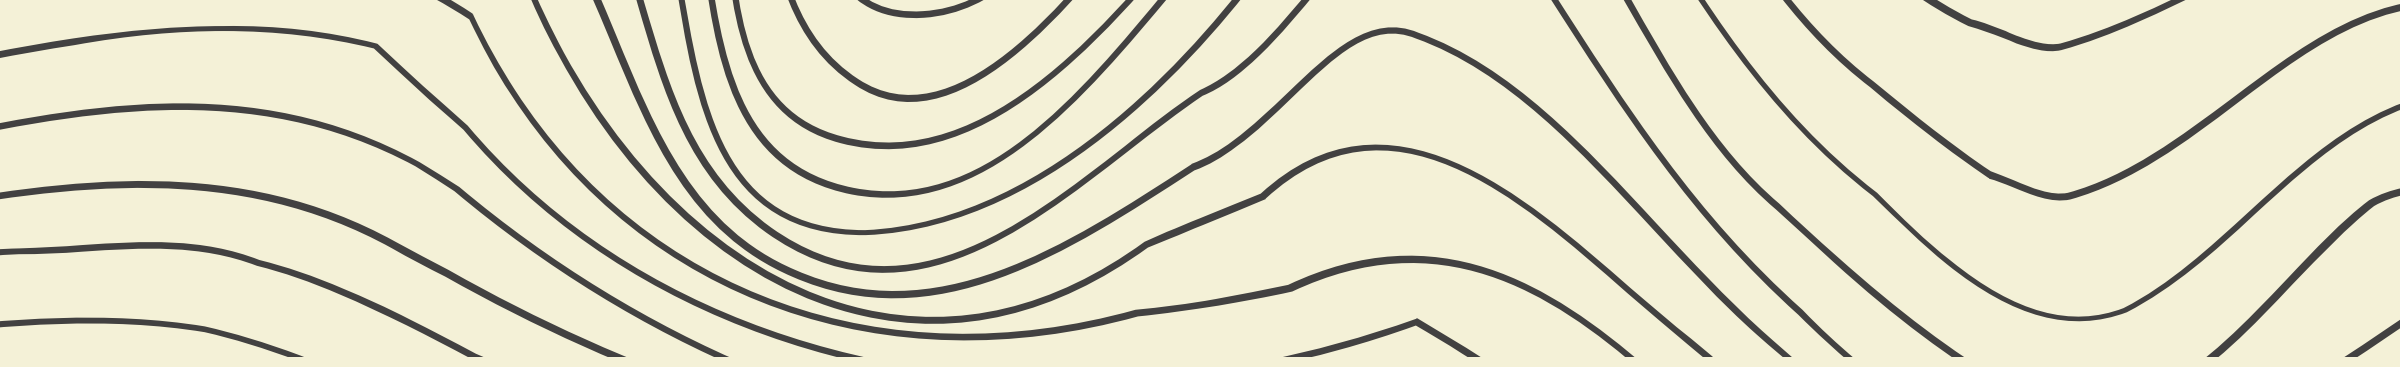

An awe-inspiring guide from master teacher Erik Ohlsen that weaves together permaculture design, food resiliency, climate adaptation, community organizing, and Indigenous wisdom that you can implement in your own backyard.

Includes case studies from an Afroindigenous-led, agroecological farm; toxic remediation projects using mushrooms; a Native-led North American seed bank; and water resilience projects in rural India.

Foreword by Penny Livingston

Pub Date 8/22/23
$32.95 8x10

What if symptoms from some of our most common afflictions—everything from depression and anxiety to addiction and PTSD—could be traced back to a disconnection from our bodies?

How to Change Your Body follows this question to illuminate a crucial missing piece of the mind-body relationship: interoception, the process of sensing within our own bodies, and the power it holds to foster social connection and help us heal.

Pub Date 9/19/23
$22.95 6x9

HOW TO CHANGE YOUR BODY

THE SCIENCE OF INTEROCEPTION & HEALING
THROUGH CONNECTION TO YOURSELF & OTHERS

SAGA BRIGGS
FOREWORD BY JULIE HOLLAND

ERGOT ALKALOIDS

History, Chemistry, and Therapeutic Uses

ALBERT HOFMANN

The masterpiece we have all been waiting for in this classic text from the 60s, Ergot Alkaloids is Albert Hofmann's historic encyclopedia of ergot alkaloids and their derivatives, translated in English for the first time.

Foreword by Amanda Feilding, Afterword by Leonard Pickard, and Chemist's Notes from Paul F. Daley of the Alexander Shulgin Research Institute

Pub Date 10/10/23

$35.00 6x9

Limited Edition Hardcover

Spring 2024

A CHACRUNA ANTHOLOGY

WOMEN AND PSYCHEDELICS

Uncovering Invisible Voices

EDITED BY
ERIKA DYCK CLANCY CAVNAR
PATRICK FARRELL IBRAHIM GABRIELL
BEATRIZ C. LABATE GLAUBER LOURES DE ASSIS

FOREWORD BY KATHLEEN HARRISON

Women & Psychedelics: Uncovering Invisible Voices

The history of psychedelics has often emphasized the contributions made by leading researchers, breakthrough therapists, and champions of a psychedelic ethos. It just so happens, that most of the figures whose names were on the scientific papers or political placards, were men. But behind the scenes and even in the same rooms, women and junior colleagues were working towards a psychedelic future. These are their stories.

$21.95 6x9 Pub Date 3/5/24

Body Autonomy: Decolonizing Sex Work and Drug Use

Collected by Justice Rivera

From erotic labor, to the rights of people who use psychoactive substances, to reproductive health and carcerality—we are living through a political moment when debates about body autonomy are at a fever pitch. This crucial and timely anthology on healing-centered harm reduction offers a visionary framework and set of practical strategies to transform conditions for communities that bear the brunt of interpersonal and systemic violence, overdose deaths, and health inequities.

$21.95 6x9 Pub Date 5/14/24

BODY AUTONOMY

Decolonizing
Sex Work and Drug Use

JUSTICE RIVERA

Foreword by Dr. Carl Hart

Grandmothers' Wisdom

We are honored to be publishing the second edition of this book from The International Council of Thirteen Indigenous Grandmothers, alliance of Indigenous female elders that focuses on the environment and human rights. This full-color account of their life stories, their fierce devotion to political action, and their visions for our planet, has a foreword by Vandana Shiva. The living grandmothers are currently writing memorial pieces for those who have passed for inclusion in the book. the 20th anniversary of the formation of this council will be celebrated at Synergetic Press's headquarters in Santa Fe, NM in October 2024, along with the launch of this book.

In Development

The Language of Water

By Minni Jain & Philip Franses

In collaboration with The Flow Partnership, a UK based NGO, this book uses case studies from Zambia, India, China, Guatemala, Indonesia, and the United States—plus the vision for a Global Water School and World Water Bank—to demonstrate how we can rejuvenate landscapes and counter the increasing threat of floods, droughts, soil erosion, habitat loss at their source.

ESPD55

This follow-up to the landmark volume of ESPD50 continues the legacy of the Ethnopharmacologic Search for Psychoactive Drugs symposium, originally held in 1967. ESPD55 will represent the historic conversations held at the 55th anniversary of this multidisciplinary gathering, which brought together some of the world's leading thinkers in psychoactive research and ethnopharmacology, including Dennis McKenna, Paul Stamets, Monica Gagliano, and Wade Davis—a bold gaze at what psychedelic movements and botanical study can hold for our future.

The Living Earth

By Vandana Shiva

An exploration of the interconnected ecological and social emergencies of climate colonialism and greenwashing from a visionary, grassroots ecofeminist with hopeful lessons from the Chipko movement, a radical forest conservation practice in India that grew out of Gandhian nonviolent social action or satyagraha, meaning “truth-force.”

Synthesis June 2025 (Sasha's 100th Birthday)

A final installment and companion to cult classics PIHKAL and TIHKAL, Synthesis contains new esoteric lectures, trip reports, travelogues, and philosophical notes from the files of Ann & Sasha Shulgin, plus a chemistry section written by Sasha's proteges, expanding upon the breadcrumbs left behind in his lab notebooks.

The Farm: A Look Inside Sasha & Ann's Psychedelic Life

A full-color photo book delving into the mystery and magic of the "Shulgin Farm," home to Ann & Sasha Shulgin and birthplace of over 100 novel psychedelic compounds.

Including interviews with Hamilton Morris, Maria Mangini, the Erowids, and Paul Daley of the Alexander Shulgin Research Institute.

Exciting Submissions

Watchnight Service

A book on divination and Black Liberation from Bay Area activist and ancestral arts / nature educator brontë velez, who transforms guns into garden tools. brontë's eco-social art praxis lives at the intersections of Black feminist placemaking, abolitionist theologies, environmental regeneration, death doulaship, and the levity of absurdity.

Beyond the Book

We are expanding beyond printed books into digital book club offerings in partnership with the Global Psychedelic Society—a hub that connects hundreds of grassroots psychedelic organizations throughout the globe—to seed locally-led and accessible virtual experiences that can be recorded as evergreen content.

Please consider making a tax deductible donation through our fiscal sponsor, Institute of Ecotechnics.

We need support to continue with our educational and community building objectives fed by our publishing program. Thank you!

Click here or scan QR Code to go to the Institute of Ecotechnics donation page.

Contact Us

📞 +1-505-603-5822

✉ deborah@synergeticpress.com

🌐 synergeticpress.com

📍 1 Bluebird Court, Santa Fe, NM 87508

Click here for full catalog

or scan

